Thank you for helping with the Marathon. Thank you to everyone who spared a moment on the phone to pledge, who told their friends to listen and support, who came here in person to add to the composite of people and goodwill which was the material from which our Marathon was fashioned.

We are printing on page 15 a personal list of names, drawn from what was, alas, a not too accurately kept file, of those who participated and helped, gave of their own special talent and ability. There are perhaps more names omitted than included; the omitted list is as lustrous as the printed one, so if we neglect you in print, please be sure, that in our hearts and memory, your special contribution is well counted.

In the space below we invite you to jot down any comments you may have about the Marathon and send them in to us; they will help us greatly with our future plans.

Thank you.

The duration of programs scheduled is approximate. Dates after listings indicate past or future duplicate broadcasts. Numbers in parentheses following concerts refer to playing time in minutes. An asterisk(*) before a music listing indicates a new release, or newly acquired selection.

11:00 MISCELLANY

Nudism Circa 1966

It's not a new idea; it started with the birth of everyman -- the Greeks did it, the early Christians did it, and the nudists do it. That's the way nudity and nudism is lived today, in the nudist parks and homes of the nation.

Psychologically, artistically, humanistically sound.

Dear Listener,

One hundred and twenty-three hours of continuous, unrehearsed, unprogrammed broadcasting. That was the marathon! Some of it was the worst sound ever to be heard at KPFK; and some of it was radio at its most vital, invigorating and investigative. Taken as a whole, the span of hours seem to blur together but there were flashes of excitement which call sharply to be remembered. There was the time, for instance, when Elsa Lanchester was bubbling happily over the microphone and Father DuBay paced up and down outside the studio, waiting to go on. Suddenly, a tall, dark, distinguished-looking man walked up and said, "I'm Ricardo Montalban. I would like to say a few words if you think it will help your marathon."

Elsa said her sweet good-byes and swept out of the studio. In an instant...no time to think and plan...Ricardo Montalban and Father DuBay were seated in front of the microphone and there ensued one of the liveliest discussions one could ever plan.

Everyone who was involved, or who got caught up in this five day huckster holiday, came away with their own particular memories. Their own high spots. Their own depressions. But in the end, all sorts of good things flowed. This letter cannot detail the final results because the mountain of paperwork will take time to process. As of this writing, barely a week after the final hour of the marathon, over one-half of the pledged amounts is actually in the bag! A phenomenal showing! And a remarkable commentary on the fidelity of the KPFK audience.

One of the most important benefits to the station will result from the fact that, from the way things look at this stage, we will have added over 500 new subscribers to our list. Think of what this means at renewal time next year. A host of volunteers came forward, without whose help we could never have managed the myriad details. So many remained to continue their help; it is due to them that the processing of the pledges has proceeded so smoothly.

A raft of talent, some heard over our airwaves long ago, some never before exposed to a KPFK microphone, joined the throng and soon you will be able to hear their music, commentaries and drama. This is our community, all these people represent the efforts, the voices and the talents of Southern California and they will help make the KPFK sound stronger, more interesting, and yes, more entertaining.

As far as the money itself is concerned, it would appear that our 1966 budget will be balanced, in spite of our scheduled growth. We still have the bugaboo of "accounts payable" hanging over from previous years, but if we can translate this Marathon money and the Pleasure Faire receipts into the kind of programming we intend to offer, an increasing number of subscribers should put our treasury in good order to handle our overhanging debts.

Finally, let us apologize for the strident noises and urgent cries heard during the five day race. But you beautiful people came through so magnificently on behalf of your station that all of us at KPFK owe you our pledge of thanks. We will render it at 90.7 on the FM dial.

In sincere appreciation,

THE KPFK STAFF

The Exacting Ear

The story of Listener-Sponsored radio with an anthology of programs from the three Pacifica stations

This new Pantheon book captures some of the excitement found in Pacifica's diverse radio broadcasts. It reflects fragments of the spectacular range of uncommon radio programming that has become known throughout the world, including:

The San Francisco Huac Hearings;
Freedom Now, WBAI's outstanding civil rights documentary;
Kenneth Rexroth, an excerpt from his autobiography;
Big Head, the obituary of a junkie.

Edited by Eleanor McKinney, with a preface by Eric Fromm.

Is B. Traven America's most neglected literary genius?

Many critics think so. The author of Macario and the Treasure of Sierra Madre remains a personal and literary mystery to most American readers, though his works have been translated into 40 languages and sold in millions of copies all over the world.

Hill & Wang, in publishing "The Night Visitor," provide the first recent opportunity to explore the world of B. Traven in English.

Hardcover, 5½" x 8¼", 237 pages, bibliography of published books, $4.95 plus 4% California state tax. Postage prepaid on cash orders.
